Hello Bluesky Trust & Safety,

I'm reporting the account @triplemagenta.bsky.social for bot-like, harassing, and nuisance behavior. This account repeatedly targets newer wsocial.eu accounts with the same content, framed as “educating users” about a client’s shortcomings, but in practice it singles out and pressures specific accounts.

I maintain my own moderation list here:

<https://bsky.app/profile/corkiejp.github.io/lists/3msvbkkg3d6326>

Earlier tonight, the only other subscriber to my moderation list (besides my own accounts) temporarily deactivated their subscription. Within a very short time, @triplemagenta.bsky.social posted this message:

<https://bsky.app/profile/did:plc:t6ursabw5ds6jyrfwfdkosar/post/3mv3s2kozys2w>

The speed of this reaction, immediately after the other list subscriber deactivated, suggests they are monitoring list activity and responding in a targeted way. This fits a broader pattern where the account uses the firehose to scrape information and generate automatic replies, then engages specific accounts in a repeated, targeted manner.

Requested action:

- Review @triplemagenta.bsky.social for targeted harassment / bad-faith behavior.
- Assess whether their posts and behavior violate Bluesky’s Community Guidelines on stalking/targeting and abuse of moderation features or good-faith posting.
- Apply appropriate account-level moderation or guidance to stop the repeated targeting.

I can provide additional timestamps, screenshots, or post links on request.

Thank you,

John O’Connell
